I've been looking for a decent opening to FM. So far I haven't seen one yet.

Note: In January 2015 I wrote this in the VHF-UHF Digest regarding the 2014 E skip season in The Year in Review: 2014:

"Another reason for the drop could be propagation. Except for a handful of openings, the summer Es season was dead and for most of us, so was tropo. It's hard to stay excited about a hobby when your location is no longer suitable for DXing or there's just nothing to DX. And having no analog TV left on the air doesn't help either. One wonders what happens to TV DXing when Mexico goes digital this year."

2014 was a crappy year for E Skip
